

City Choir Directors for the Fall Semester 2025

Gregory Oh

Gregory Oh gained his notoriety as a new music revolutionary, but holds other cards up his sleeve. With graduate degrees from the Universities of Toronto and Michigan, his repertoire spans five centuries, having worked with living composers like Steve Reich and Phillip Glass. He has played everywhere from the National Arts Centre to legendary Berghain, Pop Montreal to the Lincoln Centre. In 2022, he received a Dora Award for outstanding music direction for the premiere of RUR A Torrent of Light (Tapestry Opera), and was recently featured on CBC's Q for his new solo show Lessons in Failure.

John Millard

Mostly self-taught, John Millard has been active in the Canadian music and theatre scenes for the last 30 years. He has worked as a composer and performer with Theatre Columbus, Bad New Days, Art of Time Ensemble, Volcano, National Film Board, Soulpepper Theatre, National Arts Centre, Shaw Festival and many others. He has recorded six albums and toured Canada and Europe with his bands The Polka Dogs and John Millard and Happy Day. A recent collaboration with Martha Ross and Tomson Highway called The Cave debuted at Luminato and just finished touring British Columbia.

Patricia O'Callaghan

Patricia O'Callaghan is a genre-fluid singer, creator and educator, with several solo and collaborative albums, and 25 years of worldwide touring under her belt, at venues from London to New York. As a Resident Artist at Toronto's Soulpepper Theatre for six years, her responsibilities included teaching, mentoring, producing, curating, performing, and developing new work. Her newest albums are Dark Butterflies, Deepest December, and the recently JUNO nominated Corona Divinae Misericordiae, by David Braid. She is excited about her new teaching positions at Queen's University and The Banff Centre for Arts and Creativity.

Sophia Grigoriadis

Sophia Grigoriadis, Mus.Bac., ARCT, is a Juno-nominated musician, choir director and teacher. Her study of Greek, and Middle Eastern singing and percussion has led her to perform and tour with many traditional and fusion ensembles across Canada. Sophia directs the choir at All Saints Greek Orthodox Church, and is a music teacher (JK-8). She has designed unique world music programs for children and their families, incorporating her passion for diverse music with her training. Sophia currently performs with Turkwaz, an all-female quartet performing the music of Greece, Turkey, the Middle East and the Balkans.

Suba Sankaran

Suba Sankaran is a multiple Dora-award winning, thrice Juno-nominated musician who crosses genres and performs worldwide as a soloist and with Auterrickshaw, FreePlay, and Retrocity. She has performed for Peter Gabriel, Nelson Mandela, and Bishop Tutu, and collaborated with artists including Deepa Mehta and Bobby McFerrin. A versatile performer, educator, composer, and sound designer, her original music for Why Not Theatre's Mahabharata received a DORA and a Toronto Theatre Critics Award. Suba recently received the prestigious 2023 Johanna Metcalf Performing Arts Prize and the Kathleen Mc Morrow Music Prize. She is also featured on Justin Gray's Grammy-nominated album, IMMERSED. www.subasankaran.com | Facebook/Instagram: @sankaransuba

Waleed Abdulhamid

Waleed Abdulhamid is a multi-instrumentalist, composer, vocalist, music / film producer, band leader, conductor, arranger and director of choral and orchestral music. A recipient of the Canadian New Pioneer Award, African Tama Award, Reel World Film Festival Award, Canadian Film Board of Excellence Award and DORA Award, Waleed Abdulhamid has worked with artists including David Clayton Thomas and The Drifters. He's been a mentor to artists such as D'bi Young, Ngozi Paul and Zaki Ibrahim. Waleed is now teaching at University of Toronto and can be seen in short and feature films, most recently for CBC, CANN Film Festival France, and TIFF.

Land Acknowledgement

The original stewards of this land were also the first performers. City Choir is raising our voices tonight along side Toronto's Indigenous communities in building relationships of reconciliation, friendship, and hope.

A Message from the Choir

Brave Wings

Sixteen years have passed since City Choir started singing. Stronger and more vibrant than ever, our community sings for the joy of it, sings for everyone's courage, and sings to lift our worlds.

About Us

City Choir is an exciting volunteer-driven SATB community choir whose leadership is shared by six of Toronto's best musicians. The choir performs music of many styles, as well as original compositions.

In addition to our own public concerts, members are welcome to perform individually in a choir cabaret each year. In 2024, we performed in a collaborative work by Suba Sankaran. In the past we have participated in two Luminato festivals, and in the "SING!" A Cappella Festivals as well as in smaller events. Members also perform traditional carols for holiday events.

We are open to all who love to sing. There are no auditions. Based on donations from members and from you, we meet Tuesday nights from September till December, and from February through early June.

Check out our website: CityChoir.ca or write to us at member@citychoir.ca. You can also find us on Facebook.

Our next session will begin in February 2026.
